To Whom It May Concern,

Lars Callieou entertained our staff virtually at a staff motivational meeting in October 2020. We have scheduled a few group virtual meetings with our staff since COVID hit and we wanted our October session to include some humor.

Hiring a comedian for a corporate event can be a tricky task as not all comedians can provide a PG show that everyone will find enjoyable. Lars's routine was very funny and relatable to all our staff. Lars definitely had our group laughing. We were able to unmute some of our group so everyone, including Lars, could hear the laughter making it feel like we were right in a comedy club. I have heard back from many of our staff who thoroughly enjoyed his routine and we were still laughing days later.

We had an external person assisting us with the technical aspects of the meeting. He worked with Lars and relayed to me that he found Lars professional, prepared, creative, and helpful. As virtual comedy is still new, they were able to work together so the audience could watch Lars do his routine and also insert some of Lars's personal photos to customize the show.

I found Lars very easy to work with as we discussed how to put on a comedic show and to make it as beneficial as possible for our Team.

I would highly recommend Lars to other organizations looking to hire an excellent, entertaining comedian. I look forward to seeing him again, hopefully, this time in person.

Sincerely,

Karen O.
