To Whom it may concern,

Lars Callieou performed for Veterans Affairs Canada, Prairie Area, via Zoom, during our National Public Service Week. His performance was very funny, clean and professional.

While it was certainly different to attend a performance this way, it was something that was enjoyed by all. Lars even found a way to interact with our group virtually (what's a show without a bit of friendly heckling!).

The feedback received was incredibly positive. We have never had entertainment before, much less in this manner, so it was wonderful news when we heard that Lars was open to performing this virtual event for us.

Lars' performance acted as a morale booster for staff, who have been delivering services throughout this difficult pandemic era. It was felt that having some humor injected would lift up spirits, and did it ever!

Lars was able to gear his performance towards our specific group, which was greatly appreciated. We would highly recommend Lars for any future corporate events.

Sincerely,

Diane P.
